APPLICATIONS BEING ACCEPTED FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TO SERVE ON
MAYOR'S YOUTH ADVISORY COMMISSION

GLENDALE, Ariz. – Glendale Mayor Elaine Scruggs is encouraging high school students who live in Glendale to apply to serve on her Mayor's Youth Advisory Commission (MYAC) for the 2008-09 school year.

By serving on MYAC, teenagers get the opportunity to share their views and ideas on a variety of community and youth-related issues firsthand with the mayor and other city representatives.

"The commission provides students with an excellent opportunity to make a positive impact in Glendale by getting involved in city programs and participating in diverse, high-profile community service projects," said Scruggs.

In addition, members organize the city's annual Glendale Student Government Day and produce and host Teens Today, a monthly show on Glendale 11, the city's cable channel.

MYAC members must commit approximately five hours per month to meetings and activities. Commission meetings are held from 7 – 8 p.m. on the fourth Thursday of each month at Glendale City Hall.

MYAC is limited to 50 members. To be eligible, teens must reside in Glendale and be enrolled in high school for the 2008-09 school year.
